Nicaragua Warns of Total War Planes Are Over Disputed Border

Managua, Nicaragua, May 4 (AP)—The President's brother, Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., says Nicaragua has thrown an "umbrella" of planes over a disputed border region to ward off a Honduran attack.

By Nicaraguan account, all is quiet on the frontier after Nicaraguan troops drove off a Honduran force which for a day occupied a tiny village in the area both countries claim.

Attackers Warned
President Luis Somoza said his government wants to give a five-nation truce team that arrived in Central America today a chance to settle the differences peacefully.

But the president warned Honduras another attack on the border region would mean "total war."

Honduras told a different story. The ranking officer of the three-man military junta ruling that country said continuous, hard fighting is going on between Hondurans and Nicaraguans along the border, principally in the mountains.

Denies Village Lost
Gen. Roque Rodriguez denied in Tegucigalpa that the Honduran troops had lost Mocoron, the Indian village of 110 population which has been the center of fighting. He threatened to bomb Managua, Nicaragua's capital, if Nicaraguans drop any bombs on border towns claimed by Honduras.

Truce Team Arrives
The five-nation truce team, named by the Council of the Organization of American States at an emergency meeting in Washington, arrived in Panama en route to Tegucigalpa to try to find a basis for negotiating the dispute.

The Nicaraguans said the fighting at Mocoron Wednesday and Thursday took a toll of probably 20 Hondurans and 12 Nicaraguans lives. President Somoza had said at first 35 Nicaraguans were killed. Later he scaled the number down to two known dead, but government sources said 10 other Nicaraguan soldiers are missing and presumed dead.

Villagers Escape
The village apparently was not occupied by either side until two weeks ago, when a small Nicaraguan garrison reportedly moved in. After protesting against what it called "Nicaraguan aggression," Hondurans sent troops to Mocoron Wednesday and drove away the Nicaraguans. Then, Nicaragua says, Nicaraguan troops recaptured the village Thursday.

President Somoza said the 110 villagers escaped harm during the fighting by going fishing.

Says Peace Reigns

GOP Policies Under Fire Of Democrats

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Democrats soft pedaled the controversial civil rights issue today to concentrate their attack on monetary and other policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Party bigwigs, meeting here for three days of strategy sessions and a fund-raising dinner, sought to avoid clashes over civil rights — which have strained Democratic ties in the past.

Hits Credit Record
Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said the Republicans had inaugurated "the greatest manipulation of interest rates and credit the world has ever seen."

Patman, chairman of the Senate-House economic committee, said this in remarks prepared for a round table discussion with Democratic governors.

In another talk prepared for the same meeting, Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said the Republicans were giving only "grudging recognition" to the problem presented in 19 major areas where he said unemployment is above 5 per cent, despite general national prosperity.

Adlai to Talk
A scattering of Democratic governors gathered for a party conference preceding a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here tonight. Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 and 1956 presidential candidate, will speak.

Hundreds View McCarthy's Body; War Mark Lauded
Washington, May 4 (AP)—About 500 persons filed through a funeral home here last night to view the body of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

A folded American flag lay on a pew at the foot of the casket, which was flanked by two marines.

Some wept as they viewed the body of the controversial Wisconsin Republican who died Thursday of a liver ailment.

Funeral Tuesday
McCarthy's body will lie in state at the funeral home through Sunday. After a service in the Senate chamber Monday at 11 a. m., EDT, the remains will be flown to Appleton, Wis., for services and burial Tuesday.

Preceding the Senate service, a high Mass will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Cathedral at 9 a. m. Monday by the Most Rev. Patrick O'Boyle, Catholic archbishop of Washington.

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S. D.) says the Senate rackets committee is looking into circumstances surrounding David J. McDonald's reelection as president of the United Steelworkers Union.

Mundt, a member of the committee, said yesterday the investigation by committee staff members is designed to determine whether union funds were used to finance McDonald's recent campaign for another term in the union office.

Beck Due Wednesday
Meanwhile, the committee prepared for another session next Wednesday with Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president. In his last appearance before the investigators, Beck declined to answer questions about his handling of union funds. The Teamsters boss invoked the Fifth Amendment, protection against possible self-incrimination.

Beck was indicted last Thursday by a federal grand jury at Tacoma, Wash., on two counts of income tax evasion. Atty. Gen. Brownell said last night the Justice Department is ready to prosecute Beck as soon as trial date is set.

Brownell added the government's investigation of Beck's affairs would continue. The Teamsters chief posted $5,000 bond here yesterday pending an arraignment May 13.

Mum on Indictment
Beck said last night in Atlantic City, N. J., he had "not a thing" to say about the indictment. He then closeted himself with about 50 Teamsters union leaders from 15 states and later a Teamsters spokesman quoted Beck as saying:

"Throughout the whole history of the labor movement it has been necessary to take it and dish it out."

"Every man is entitled to his day in court. Many men before have been charged to the point where everyone wanted to dump them and later these same men were acquitted..."

After Mundt reported the committee was checking into the steelworkers election, another source said complaints about McDonald's election had been received from Berwick, Pa.

Cites Cooperation
The union chief defeated Donald C. Rarick, a union member who was not known nationally before he tried for the top steelworkers post. McDonald defeated him by about two to one.

McDonald has written the committee there is "no corruption in our union" and that the organization will cooperate in any investigation.

There were reports, also, that the committee might look into two other matters, the recent strike against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., and the (Continued on Page 14, Col. 2)

IBM, Big Business Careful Earnings Encouraging, But Caution Apparent

Booming corporate earnings reports cheered Wall Street this week, according to The Associated Press in New York, but enthusiasm of businessmen was salted down with a healthy dose of caution.

The AP noted that International Business Machines Corporation, one of the star corporate performers, apparently approached expansion plans carefully.

No Borrowing
To finance the expanding volume of business, IBM will seek added capital in the amount of 200 million dollars. But it isn't going to borrow from the banks, or sell bonds.

Instead, the AP said, the firm is going to float a big new stock issue, the first by IBM since 1925. Why? President Thomas J. Watson Jr. gave this explanation:

"In the interest of long range national health, we felt that debt should not be increased at this time."

Profits Impressive
There was no doubt about Wall Street's buoyant mood (The Associated Press 60-stock average thrust to within kissing distance of a 1957 high). And there was no questioning the impressive profits performance of many key corporations in the first three months this year.

A counting of noses by The Associated Press gave this picture: The first 491 corporations to announce their March quarter profits earned, after taxes, a combined net profit of just under (Continued on Page 14, Col. 3)

Cause Not Known
The Coast Guard said it did not know the exact cause of the sinking. In her distress message, the Bornholm said she was leaking badly, her holds were flooded and she could not stand heavy weather.

The Duane was expected to take the Bornholm crew to Boston. No other details were available.

Junior High Plan Called Economical

Established financial facts prove that, although construction of the proposed new junior high school at Dietz Stadium will temporarily create a tax increase, it is the least expensive alternative, Robert B. O'Reilly, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Education, said in a letter today to The Freeman.

In the light of additional tax burdens, taxpayers face "an even more dismal future" if they fail to approve construction of the new school, Mr. O'Reilly said.

Basis of Conclusion
These conclusions were reached, he said, after a thorough review of consolidation, possible temporary measures, and a proposal to refuse acceptance of non-resident pupils in the Kingston city schools.

Mr. O'Reilly's letter follows: "I would like to take this opportunity to explain a few of the financial problems of this school district to the citizens of Kingston. It has only been after careful consideration of many alternatives that your Board of Education has set upon the building program about which you have heard so much recently."

"You have heard many figures quoted on the program. You have heard that it is too expensive, and that we should wait for consolidation. I, too, have heard these arguments and, owing a responsibility to both the children and the taxpayers of this community, have investigated all facets of the problem carefully."

Payments Exploined
"Indebtedness payments on the proposed issue will be $166,500 annually or $61,500 more than is now being paid. This will add, until 1961 when payment on the George Washington School is completed, $150 to the school tax rate. In times such as these we are all reluctant to take on any sort of additional tax burden. However, when we look at what it will cost us by failing to build we face an even more dismal future. The very best sort of temporary measures which your Board of Education could hope to undertake, as a solution, would be the moving of classes into art rooms, homemaking rooms, shop rooms, cafeterias, (Continued on Page 6, Col. 8)

Cold to Continue Through Sunday
Albany, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Temperatures will dip to the low 30s again tonight, continuing the shivering switch from record heat to freezing cold in the last week.

The breezy and cold weather will continue through tomorrow, the weather bureau said, but bright sunshine might warm things up a bit on Monday.

The mercury dropped to a low of 31 at Binghamton and Watertown overnight. It was 32 at Olean, Oneonta, Utica and Massena.

Other lows included 34 at Elmira and Rome; 35 at Buffalo and Syracuse; 36 at Newburgh; 37 at Glens Falls; 38 at Plattsburgh and Albany; and 41 at LaGuardia Airport in New York city.

Scattered snow flurries were reported in parts of central and northern counties yesterday and last night. There was no accumulation.

Some "inconsequential" flurries were expected during today, forecasters said, but a clear night was in prospect.

Weather observers said it might be a bit colder tonight than last night. They attributed this to an expected cloudless sky and lighter winds.

New Soviet Onslaughts May Result Bids Reds Accept Disarmament Plan

Bonn, Germany, May 4 (AP)—The Atlantic allies declaration that they will meet any aggression with nuclear-backed might was expected today to bring new onslaughts from Russia and from political opponents in their own countries.

Their stand was reaffirmed last night in a communique which served notice that NATO members stood ready to use "all available means"—including their devastating nuclear weapons — against any aggressor. The statement came at the end of a two-day session of foreign ministers of the 15-nation alliance.

Answer to Threats
In a clearcut answer to the Kremlin's recent threat against atomic guided missile bases in Scandinavia, West Germany, Greece and Turkey, the communique said:

"Pending an acceptable agreement on disarmament, no power can claim the right to deny to the alliance the possession of the modern arms needed for its defense."

If Russia really fears Western defense preparations, the communique said it need only "accept a general disarmament agreement embodying effective measures of control and inspection within the framework of the proposals made on numerous occasions by the Western powers."

Red Plan Unacceptable
The communique declared unacceptable Russia's campaign aimed at giving Soviet forces a monopoly on nuclear weapons.

Touching on the explosive German question, the declaration said "prolonged division of Germany and the anomalous situation of Berlin" constitutes a continuing threat to world peace. It called for early reunification of the former Reich.

The NATO council delayed a decision on the future balance of NATO armament between conventional and nuclear weapons pending a report from its military authorities. The ministers said the final decision on this question should be taken by all NATO members together.

Notes 'New Elements'
The council reported "new elements" which promise to limit Communist expansion and subversion in the Middle East—an apparent reference to the Eisenhower doctrine and developments in Jordan where King Hussein has ousted a pro-Egyptian regime.

The ministers also declared Russia's actions in Hungary are an obstacle to improvement of East-West relations and said Moscow is trying to "throw a cloak of oblivion over Soviet repression in Hungary."

Observers believed the conference stand basing Western defenses largely on the deterrent of hydrogen bomb power spelled plenty of trouble for the government of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. His ruling party is campaigning for general elections next September.

Europe's heartland—is divided in more senses than one. Some 50 million West Germans are split on the role their land should play in the power struggle between the Western and Soviet power blocs.

Seek Ties With Allies
Adenauer and his Conservatives tend to remain tightly tied with the Western allies. They feel that if they go on standing long enough against the Soviets, they eventually will free their (Continued on Page 14, Col. 2)

Rose Trial Due to Start Next Monday

The trial of William R. Rose, 51-year-old former president of the defunct Home National Bank of Ellenville, and four other defendants is scheduled to begin Monday in Federal Court, New York city.

Besides Rose, who has been indicted on 30 counts, the defendants are Joseph DiCandia, president of Anjopa Paper Mill Company of Napanoch; Mrs. Margaret Brush, bookkeeper at the paper mill; Mrs. Anna Schandler and Mrs. Celia Hoffman, owners of Hotel Zeiger in Sullivan county.

Accounts Overdrawn
It was reported when the bank was shut down last fall that the account of the paper mill was overdrawn by some $950,000 and Hotel Zeiger by approximately $250,000.

Rose was arrested early last December charged with falsifying bank records, was committed to the Federal House of Detention, Manhattan, and later released in $35,000 bail.

The defunct bank was reorganized by a group of Ellenville citizens and reopened shortly before Christmas as the Ellenville National Bank.

Rose is represented by Attorney N. LeVan Haver of Kingston.

Rosendale Asks By-Pass to Cut Heavy Traffic

Mayor Catherine O'Leary of Rosendale has proposed to the State Traffic Commission a bypass of the village to alleviate heavy truck traffic on the main street, it was learned today.

The mayor noted at a meeting of the village board this week that traffic congestion on Main street has been compounded with parking permitted on both sides of the street.

Merchant Aid Asked
She recommended a letter to all merchants urging their support by providing a parking lot and those with facilities in the rear of their stores encourage patrons to park there.

Mayor O'Leary told the board that a letter had been sent to the State Traffic Commission in Albany "suggesting that a bypass of the village be made where the old canal (D&H) is. Such a by-pass would help because it would take the heavy (Continued on Page 14, Col. 4)

Hopkins was chairman of the board of General Dynamics Corp., one of the nation's largest industrial complexes which last year had net sales of more than one billion dollars. Electric Boat Co., one of the division's General Dynamics, built the nation's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus. Hopkins himself took an interest in the project, and he actively worked to promote peacetime development of the atom.

Resumes Negotiations

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Capital Airlines and the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) resume their marathon negotiations today after a last-minute order cancelling a threatened strike. The walkout, scheduled for midnight last night, would have halted or seriously curtailed Capital's extensive operations. Pay scales for 2,200 mechanics and ground personnel are in dispute.

AMONG THE FAVORED

One of the recurrent themes in the long history of mankind is the cry against inequality of possessions and opportunity. In every age, as far back as the records go, men have observed that some are wealthy and gifted, while others live in poverty and degradation.

The cry is still valid in our time. It is not only valid as between individuals, but as between whole nations. Some men live in fine houses, enjoy every luxury, pass their entire lives in ease amid surroundings of grace and beauty. Others go through life without ever knowing anything beyond unrewarding toil and struggle in a grim, ugly environment. On a broader scale, some nations enjoy tremendously high standard of living, while others scratch out a bare existence from a hostile earth.

It may be that this will eventually change. It may be that advancing technology and human understanding will some day make a satisfying life and beautiful surroundings possible for everyone on earth. Humanity may evolve to the point where there will be no poor relations.

But if it does come, that happy state will be a long, long time in coming. Meanwhile, it is well to be humbly grateful that we here in America are among the favored children of earth. We are so favored because we have great natural wealth and because our heritage of freedom enables each of us to develop to the full extent of his capabilities.

We have an obligation to conserve our natural wealth. We have an obligation to cherish and strengthen our heritage of freedom so that it may be passed on to succeeding generations.

SEPARATE VETO

President Eisenhower's letter to Speaker Rayburn on possible budget cuts makes one suggestion which would save the taxpayer much money, not merely now but in future years. He asks Congress to give him authority to veto separate items in appropriation bills.

Now the President has to take the whole bill, even if it is crammed full of items which he thinks extravagant and unnecessary. The only alternative is to veto the whole bill, thereby running the risk of stopping the work of an entire department until Congress passes a bill to his satisfaction.

The permission that Mr. Eisenhower seeks would enable him to weed out undesirable expenditures. Many states give their governors corresponding power. And the Constitution of the Confederacy, drawn up by statesmen with long experience in the working of our own government, gave the President this privilege.

Sometimes, too, an obnoxious clause having nothing to do with appropriations is tacked on to a money bill because only in this way could it hope to escape a veto. The proposed statute would prevent this.

"Congress should grant the President's request. But a lot of pressure from the taxpayers will have to be brought to bear first."

Probably the happiest ball player in this year's opening games was one who made a hit that beat the team which released him as being through at the close of last season.

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE

An editorial in one of the nation's top metropolitan newspapers starts off this way: "The Soviet government has just announced plans to stop interest payments and to freeze payment of principle on bonds held by the people of that country in the amount of 260 billion rubles."

The word the editorial writer meant was "principal," but the typographical error actually suggests a grim truism about a government whose pledges are valueless. Principle is in fact being frozen in this indefensible 20-year repudiation of a government debt that was supposed to be interest-bearing.

However, "freezing principle" is not an unusual or temporary practice with the Russian government. Principle as it signi-

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
COSMOPOLITAN NEW YORK

When a city has a budget of nearly two billion dollars, it spends more money than many a country and the man who spends so much is an official of considerable importance. It is not so very long ago that the government of the United States managed to get along on a billion a year, although it has now moved into the stratosphere beyond the comprehension of most taxpayers.

The population of New York City is larger than some European countries (such as Norway, Denmark or Switzerland) and to that must be added at least 1,000,000 visitors a day who come from all over the world to see whatever wonders the town can provide. Policing New York is almost an impossible task because there is so much of it, about 320 square miles with 5,850 miles of streets.

The Mayor of New York, an elected official, is its chief executive officer who presides over 203,000 city employees. Despite the enormity of the task, New Yorkers have rarely bothered in recent times to elect outstanding citizens as Mayor although they have chosen some very colorful personalities such as Jimmy Walker, Fiorello La Guardia, Bill O'Dwyer. Most of the Mayors have been Democrats.

The present Mayor of New York, Robert F. Wagner, son of the United States Senator of the same name, is young, charming and effective. He is married and has two sons. The Mayor's salary is $40,000 a year and among his perquisites is a home in Gracie Mansion, a beautiful colonial edifice on the East River.

The success or failure of a New York City Mayor depends upon the commissioners he appoints, for it is in the various commissions that inefficiency and corruption make themselves evident. Most of the commissioners are paid officials, although there are some, such as the president of the Board of Education, who serve without compensation.

The Mayor is elected for a four year term and Mayor Wagner is up for re-election this year. A Democrat, he will encounter no opposition in his own party, Carmine DeSapio, the Democratic leader, proclaiming that Wagner will win by 1,000,000 votes. How correct this estimate is will be seen on Election Day but the utter bankruptcy of the Republican Party in this city is to be noted by the fact that no distinguished name has been suggested to run in opposition to Mayor Wagner.

In this city, the two party system has broken down, the Republicans here no longer affecting any large element among the voters. Unless some outrageous scandal occurs between now and Election Day in November, the Republicans are likely to nominate a nonentity who will find that being a candidate without hope of election is profitable because of the advertising value.

Popularity in New York is a psychological quality difficult to attain because of the concentration in this city of men and women whose special addiction is popularity. Actors, actresses, movie stars, national and other officials gather in New York to attract attention to themselves in the hope that they will be given space (with pictures) in the five morning newspapers and three afternoon newspapers of general circulation to say nothing of TV and radio coverage. There are probably two dozen banquets at each noonday and evening meal with several speakers at each, all hoping for a line of type.

Against all this competition, the local gentry have to battle for notice and distinction. Also this is a city of enormous scandals, because it is the center of the really large and important rackets and swindles. A man in public life always walks a tight rope because even if he, personally, is as honest as a saint, he never can be sure that one of his numerous subordinates does not soil his fingers in the enormous pot of grease that is everlastingly available.

There has been little of this during the Wagner Administration. The current scandal involving "Socks" Lanza, the fish market protection salesman, has thus far not involved any city officials. Scandals to count here must be a better show than any of the professional producers and directors ever came up with. For instance, Frank Costello's tattoo during the Kefauver Investigation was topnotch theatre. The Lanza scandal will be dead before the mayoralty campaign gets moving, although the Republicans will do their best to keep it alive.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
A NEW HERNIA INJECTION

Hernia is the protrusion or bulging of the large intestine through the abdominal wall. There can be hernias at other places, such as a hernia of the brain from a wound in the skull, but those in the abdomen are by far the most common.

The organ protruded in an abdominal hernia is usually a loop of bowel but could be the bladder, ovary or some other organ. Whatever it is, the protrusion gets its name from the lining of the abdomen (peritoneum) and from other layers of the wall, all together forming what is called the sac of the hernia. This causes a lump which usually disappears when the individual lies down and returns when the person stands up or coughs.

While some hernias can apparently be cured by use of a truss and abdominal exercises to tighten the abdominal wall, most cases require operation. Surgery can be used in all cases of hernia and some authorities feel that it should be but this of course means time off from work, hospital costs, surgeons and anesthetics.

However, in the American Journal of Surgery, Dr. Paul W. Harrison of Penney Farms, Fla., reports on a new injection technique for hernia without the need for surgery in most cases. The procedure uses sterilized asbestos powder to induce fibrosis—the formation of fibrous tissue. "Our period of observation after injection in one case now extends to more than three years and there seems to be no tendency for the asbestos fibrosis to disappear."

Following preliminary tests in the United States, a series of 200 cases of hernia were treated in Arabia during a period of eight months. There was no selection of cases. Every patient with a hernia who applied for treatment received asbestos injections, excepting three with strangulated hernia who were treated surgically.

What were the results? In this series of 200 cases there were no deaths, no serious complications and no thrombosis (formation of blood clot). No tendency toward overgrowth of the fibrous tissue was observed. "The injected asbestos stimulates the cells of the body and causes a definite fibrosis," Dr. Harrison explains. All the hernias in this group were cured at least for the time being. Most of the small hernias were entirely corrected by one injection but hernias of any considerable size usually required two or three injections.

The final result of this treatment is very satisfactory. There is practically no pain after injection or soreness, less than that following surgery. There is no scar and so far we have observed no recurrences. All the cases have been followed up for a minimum of six months."

If this new technique proves to be a permanent cure, it is indeed good news for all hernia sufferers.

"But We Can Get Rid of It Without Wrecking the Whole House"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA)—Mrs. Charles Wilson, colorful wife of the colorful secretary of defense, is coming up with the best lines at parties these days.

Other afternoon at a big reception a friend asked her if she planned to accompany her husband on his trip to Patrick Air Force Base in Florida to watch them fire some new guided missiles.

At least four of the Pentagon's top missile experts were in the circle listening to her talk.

"Dear me, no," she said, "it would be a waste of time because everyone knows that those missiles never work."

HURRAH FOR the Ft. Myer officers' club. It came up with some new ideas in food at a big reception the other afternoon thrown by Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker.

In the first place, the genius who arranged the food place it on a dozen smaller tables all over the ballroom to prevent the big jam, which always takes place when there is only one food table.

Then there were such interesting items as gigantic bowls of freshly shucked oysters to be dipped in hot sauce, raw hamburger mixed with onions and delicious spices, all sorts of rare cheeses, the best artichokes ever served in this town and all the rare roast beef any guest could eat.

Serving food like this keeps the alcohol consumption down.

SINCE VICE PRESIDENT Nixon moved to the relatively fashionable Wesley Heights suburb it has become ultrafashionable.

Real estate men with property in the area of the VP's new home report that they haven't seen such a boom since just after the war. Everybody wants to be Nixon's neighbor, it appears.

Conversely, the neighborhood he left has sagged in value, the realtors report.

RESIGNING Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben Robertson is leaving behind a red-hat protocol controversy which he created at a recent party in his honor.

As the party got under way he instructed the military aides to inform all couples passing through the receiving line that the man should precede the lady.

It flabbergasted everyone because the accepted tradition is just the reverse.

"Why it's just like asking the wife to open the door for the husband," says one protocol expert.

Only explanation for his order was that Robertson thought having the man go first would speed up the whole operation. There was such confusion the switch had the opposite effect.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER came in for considerable criticism along embassy row over a picture and news story which came out of Augusta, Ga., on Easter day. The picture showed Ike with his minister and the story reported that he was discussing golf.

"With world church leaders and other heads of state worrying about world conditions on this serious religious day the President could only talk about golf," says one diplomat, reflecting the sentiment of many others.

THIS TOWN may soon get special, paved bicycle paths through its parks and around its monuments and buildings.

Couple of weeks ago an administration official bought his kids a couple of new bikes, only to discover that there was no safe place to ride them.

He's pressuring District of Columbia officials to remedy the situation and they seem to think it's a good idea.

It will get a big boost in a couple of weeks when Vice President Nixon heads a mass cycling tour of the city to celebrate the 80th anniversary of the first bicycle built in the U. S.

THE MEXICAN EMBASSY just had a big party honoring famed Latin movie star Cantinflas in connection with the movie "Around the World in 80 Days," in which he appears.

"What did you think of the movie?" Cantinflas asked Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas who attended the affair.

"Didn't see the movie," Douglas replied, "but 80 days seems like an awful long time for the trip."

World traveler that he is, Douglas speaks with authority on this subject.

Junior High School
Editor, The Freeman

As I take this opportunity, as a long time resident of Kingston, to express my views on the proposed Junior High School.

The running of our school system and education of our children should certainly be considered a business problem and approached as such. With the growth of our population and economy all business is busy with long range planning. That is exactly what our school board should be doing and in my opinion is doing when they propose this new Junior High School.

Most certainly any visionary, far-sighted person realizes the potential of this area when they consider the new bridge and the Thruway. Reflect on the growth that has happened in the last two years and then project that thinking in the future.

If Kingston is to grow and recognize its responsibility to its youth and their education, then the need for the authorization and planning of the school is here today and not two, three or five years in the future.

Very truly yours,
J. H. HAULENBEEK

Injunction Extended

Philadelphia, May 4 (AP)—A temporary injunction to avert a threatened strike of 20,000 non-operating employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad has been extended for 10 days. The ruling was made yesterday by U.S. District Judge John W. Lord Jr., although a spokesman for the Transport Workers Union said all plans for the strike had been called off. Judge Lord heard arguments on whether the temporary injunction should be made permanent. Testimony was heard after PRR attorneys turned down union proposals, made in open court, that the grievance between the TWU and the railroad be settled through negotiations.

Last Hanging

Baltimore, May 4 (AP)—Kelly Briley, 35-year-old Negro convicted of murder, is scheduled to be the last man to go to the gallows in Maryland. The next prisoner sentenced to death will go to the gas chamber. The gallows, substituted for hanging more than a year ago as the means of carrying out capital punishment in this state, has been ready since last summer. Law specifies that it be used only for persons tried after June 1. Briley is scheduled to be hanged June 24.

Week's Business & Finance Reported by AP

10th Week Advance

New York, May 4 (AP)—Led by oils and steels, the stock market achieved its tenth straight weekly advance this week.

The market edged past its 1957 high at noon Friday but fell back from its gains to close a shade below that peak.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.10 on the week to $181.70. This was only 30 cents below the year's high of $182.00 reached on Jan. 4.

At noon yesterday the AP 60-stock average stood at $182.20, or 20 cents past the closing figure on Jan. 4. Closing averages are what count in the record books, so the market was not credited with establishing a new high for the year.

At Crest of Advance

The market is now at the crest of a 2½-month advance from the abyss represented by its sharp decline in February. It stands even closer than it did last week to the comparatively high prices of early January. At those prices, there is an ample supply of stock for sale, according to Wall Street analysts. The existence of this supply represents an upside barrier but one which, conceivably, could be penetrated if the market is stimulated by some good news.

Market started off higher and active in a renewed assault on the '57 high. Then prices were chopped as profits were taken. The five most active issues on the American Stock Exchange this week were:

Silver Creek Precision, up ½ at 13 1/16 on 201,200 shares; Cornucopia Gold Mines, up 7/16 at ¼; Molybdenite of Canada, up ½ at 1 1/2; Great Lakes Oil & Chemical, up ¼ at 2 1/4; and Central Explorers, up ¼ at 4 11/16.

The five most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange this week were:

Bethlehem Steel, up 1 1/2 at 46 1/4 at 315,500 shares; General Motors, up 1 1/4 at 43 1/4; Texas Gulf Producing, off 2 1/4 at 43 1/4; American Radiator, off 1 at 15 1/2; and Standard Oil (New Jersey) up 1 1/4 at 61.

Livestock Report

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—Hogs advanced 25 to 40 cents this week in active trading stimulated by aggressive buying by local packers and higher prices on some wholesale pork cuts.

The week started Monday with a top of $18.35, lowest in a month, but ended at $19.00, the highest since April 22. Demand for hogs on shipping account continued only fair. Butchers grading No. 1 and scaling 190 to 225 pounds, usually the top sellers, were scarce and the price limit went untested on most days.

Steers Finish Higher

Fed steers finished the week 50 cents to as much as $1 higher and heifers mostly 25 to 50 cents up. Prices showed only slight response to reduced marketings early in the week but substantial advances at mid-week wiped out virtually all of last week's sharp losses. Highest price of the week, $27.75 was on a load of average prime 1,304 pound fed steers.

Slaughter lambs ended 50 to 75 cents lower than a week ago. Slaughter ewes held steady. Salable receipts were about 50 per cent less than a week ago and around 20 per cent under the same period a year ago. Dressed lamb held about steady in Chicago, but was steady to $2 lower in New York.

Bond Review

New York, May 4 (AP)—The slide of corporate bond prices continued this week while U. S. government bonds were generally lower in a very thin market.

Among the corporates, industrials and foreign dollar liens were down sharply and investment quality issues were definitely lower. Rails were unchanged from last week's close while utilities showed a hesitant, slight advance.

The sad plight of the corporation is shown by rails, which closed the week only a hair above a new low for the year established last Tuesday. And top grade investment issues were only a similar slight fraction above their lows of the first of the year.

Trading volume sluffed off against $19,576,000 par value on the big board from $23,420,000 last week and $20,952,000 for the corresponding week in 1956.

Up for Bidding

The visible supply of state and municipal offerings up for public bidding over the next 30 days amounts to $297,543,257 compared with $331,375,166 a week ago, according to The Daily Bond Buyer. New issues scheduled for public sale this coming week total $123,551,924 bonds and $42,052,000 short-term notes, compared with revised totals of $165,864,700 bonds and $24,030,000 notes for the past week. The weekly average of long-term offerings now is $140,639,700.

Biggest offering on the calendar is Thursday's auction of 30 million dollars of Jacksonville, Fla., utility revenue bonds. On Tuesday, Cincinnati will put $15,000,000 of various purpose obligations on the block. Chicago will open bids Wednesday on 12½ million of various purpose bonds.

The corporate calendar will be rather light. On Tuesday, Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. will auction 25 million dollars of 30-year first mortgage bonds. Wednesday, Potomac Edison Co. will open bids on 14 million dollars of 30-year collateral Trust bonds and on Thursday Alabama Power Co. will put 14½ million of 30-year bonds on the auction block.

Bache & Co. is to offer 7½ million dollars of National Television Associates Debentures on Monday.

A Look at Grain

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—Continued sales of government owned wheat from its mothball fleet again kept traders in the bread grain on edge this week.

The result was a depressing influence on most wheat futures, particularly the nearby May contract, as traders moved to liquidate long positions. Wheat ended the week lower on both the old and new crops months.

Old wheat closed Friday 2½ to 5½ lower than a week ago, new wheat 2½ to 3 lower, corn ¾ lower to ¾ higher, oats ¼ to 2 lower, rye 2½ to 9¼ lower, soybeans 2½ lower to 1½ higher and lard 3 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Trend Irregular

The trend among all grain futures this week on the Board of Trade was one of irregularity. Corn followed no regular pattern as old crop deliveries moved slightly upward the newer crop months declined. Oats were down and rye sold far into new low seasonal ground.

Old crop soybeans ended the week lower and higher and the new crop months closed up to 2½ cents lower than last Friday.

Weakness in May wheat stemmed to some extent from reports the government continued to sell wheat stored in World War 2 Liberty ships on the east coast.

Texas Flood Called Worse Than in 1955

Wichita Falls, Tex., May 4 (P)—Several bridges were covered by flood water here today as steady rains fed already overflowing creeks and lakes and police and civil defense units evacuated more flood-threatened families.

Rain fell through the night and water in the south section of this north Texas city rose more than four inches in one hour, according to Police Sgt. Kenneth Edmonds.
15 Families Evacuated
The officer said Hempstead Lane Bridge was under two feet of water. The bridge is on one of the main streets that crosses Holliday creek, the creek that has poured its water into the homes of dozens of residents. Edmonds said at least 15 families had been evacuated. He quoted Officer John Loftin as saying "this flood will be worse than the one in 1955 when hundreds were evacuated."

17th Day of Floods
This is the 17th day that floods have raged through parts of this state that went through seven years of scorching drought. North and central Texas yesterday was hit by cloudbursts which dropped more than 6 inches of rain in some sections and caused other flood threats. Evacuation of families here started before 10:30 p. m. In 1950 about 500 families were evacuated when the creek flooded. This northwest Texas city has a population of 125,000.

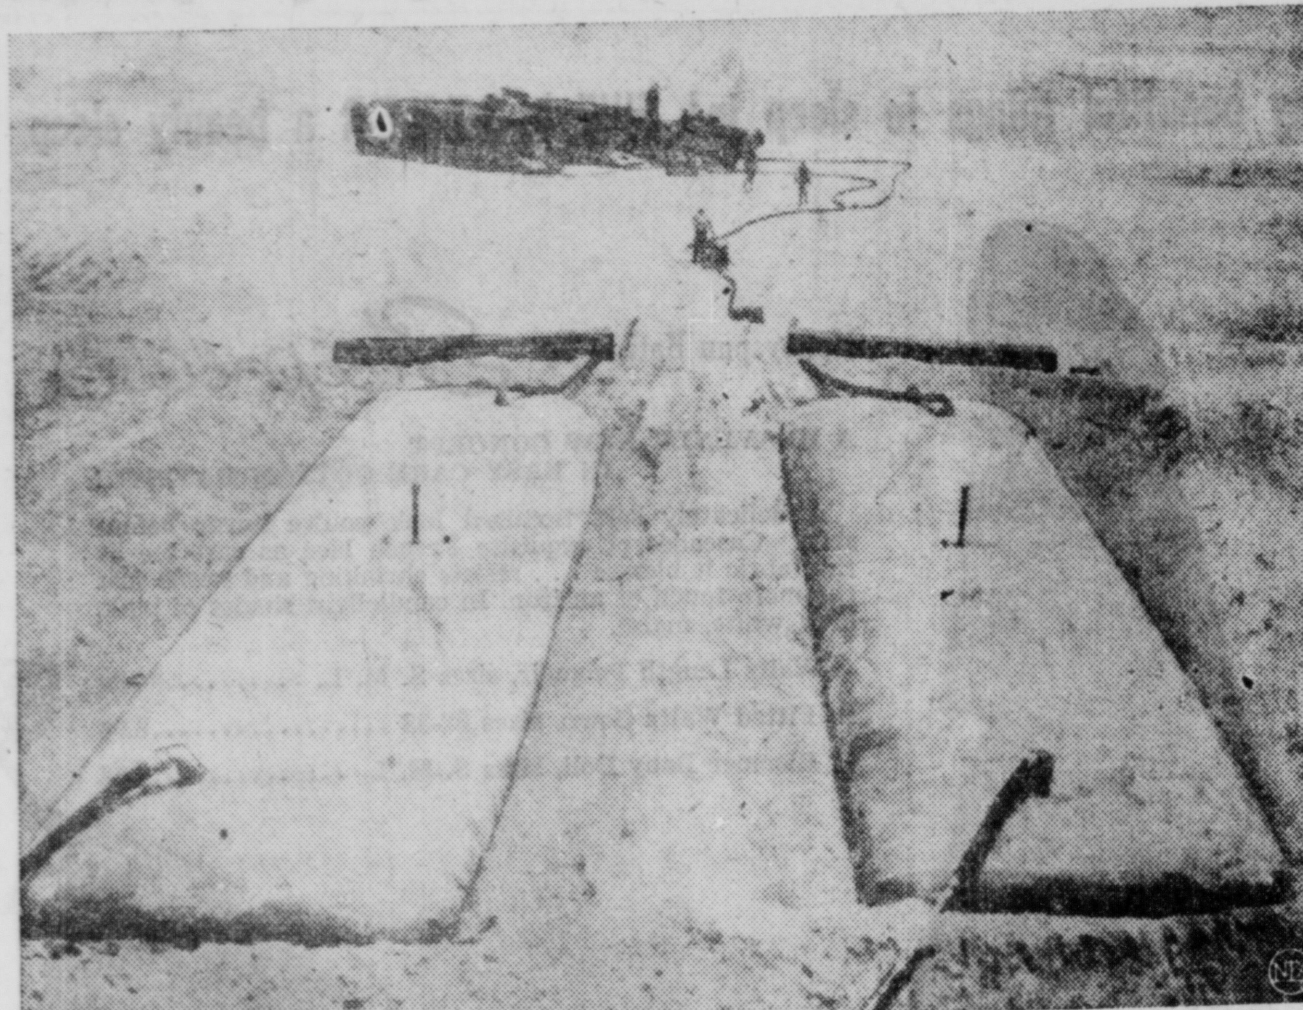

More Rains Due
The weather bureau forecast for the next four days calls for heavy rains from the Pecos Valley in the far west to Louisiana on the east. A flash flood warning was issued for Elm Creek in Gainesville after a thunderhead dumped 6.0 of an inch of rain in 15 minutes on the city. Three tornado funnels, two north of here and one near Burk Burnett, 13 miles north of here, were sighted yesterday but did not touch ground.

Union Hose Members

COLLAPSIBLE GAS STATION—This Amphibious Assault Bulk Fuel System was developed by the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N.C., to replace the moving of fuel across beaches in 55-gallon drums. The system employs collapsible fuel tanks (foreground), small fuel pumps and other equipment. Pictured above, an assembled beach unloading station keeps a steady flow of fuel from landing craft through the two 10,000-gallon tanks and on to units in the field.

ODDS AGAINST YOU—The chances are three out of four that you would sustain injuries or be killed in an injury-producing crash such as the staged accident pictured above. According to the Cornell Automotive Crash Injury Research center in New York City, 20 per cent of injuries occur after occupants are thrown out; 56 per cent are caused by striking objects inside car; and more than half of the cars in which injuries occur are going less than 40 miles an hour. In the photo series the passenger's door was removed on the white car to give a clear view of the reaction of a dummy (arrow). The white car was traveling 37 m.p.h.

"THAT'S MY BABY"—Crooner Gene Austin, whose record sales of more than 86,000,000 platters back in the 1920's makes him the greatest recording star of all time, warbles a duet with his daughter, Charlotte, a film starlet in Hollywood. Little known to today's teen-agers, Austin, who is starting a comeback, thrilled an earlier generation with such popular hits as "My Blue Heaven," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby."

CREEPING EYEBALLS—When building a pipeline it is now the thing to use the magic of X-ray to check the perfection of each weld. This is from the inside out—and the X-ray eye can crawl down the pipe by itself. Above, a Texas Corporation technician is starting the mechanical monkey on its journey. It will be stopped at a joint and rays emanating from it will be picked up on film on the outside of the pipe. Later technicians study the developed film for any defects which might make a weld unacceptable.

Syrians at Polls

Damascus, Syria, May 4 (P)—Some Syrian citizens got a chance today to vote for or against their government's drift to the left.

Elections were being held in four cities for four vacant seats in the 142-member parliament. Although no one was saying the by-elections would change the balance in parliament, they were regarded as the first good test of the way Syrians feel about recent government trends.

U. S. Agents Jailed

Hong Kong, May 5 (P)—A Chinese Communist newspaper said today five "U. S.-Chiang air-dropped espionage agents" were sentenced to long prison terms recently in Sian, capital of Shensi province.

The newspaper said all were charged with being dropped into the mainland from Formosa to collect information on political, economic and military activities and establish an armed counter-revolution in a plot to overthrow the Red regime.

The paper said the five pleaded guilty and were given sentences ranging from 8 to 20 years.

Almost Fired: McLeod

Washington, May 4 (P)—Scott McLeod says he almost was fired as state department security officer four years ago because Secretary Dulles thought he had "leaked" information to a newspaper.

He said Dulles told him he had authority to fire the security chief as a "security risk because of this leak" to the old Washington Times Herald. The newspaper had reported McLeod had reservations about the then-pending nomination of Charles E. Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia.

Austria to Vote New President

Vienna, May 4 (P)—Austrians vote tomorrow for a new president. They will choose between two men who have had little but nice words to say about each other.

The candidates are Adolf Schaerf, 67, socialist vice chancellor in Austria's coalition government, and Dr. Wolfgang Denk, 75, retired university professor and well-known surgeon.

For weeks the two men have been touring the country to seek votes for the six-year office left vacant by the death of Theodor Koerner last January.

The presidency has powers under the Constitution but actually the No. 1 man in the country is the chancellor, as head of the federal government. The president does little but conduct ceremonial and receptions and hand out medals and awards.

Schaerf and Denk have tried to make issues to arouse voters interest. Schaerf, in the last week of the campaign, has proclaimed that neutral Austria shall not possess atomic weapons. Nobody ever suggested it should.

Denk's backers have been proclaiming: "If you want to continue to live in freedom and security, vote for Denk."

The only issue, if any, is that Denk claims to be "above parties" while Schaerf is a Socialist.

Charges Reuther Seeks to Rule Teamster Union

St. Louis, May 4 (P)—James R. Hoffa, indicted teamsters union vice president, says President Walter P. Reuther of the united automobile workers is trying to "take over" the teamsters "but he'll never see the day he does it."

Hoffa, president of the 12-state central conference of the union, made the charge in an interview yesterday after speaking at a three-state meeting of teamster officials.

He said he told the closed meeting of what he described as a "premeditated attack on the teamsters in an effort to take over the union."

In Detroit, a UAW spokesman said Reuther reportedly has expressed the hope that the membership of the teamsters will be able to clean their own house and continue to exist as a part of the AFL-CIO.

Reuther further has said, the spokesman declared, that if the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee finds the teamsters cannot be cleaned of corruption and it becomes necessary to expel the union, then the AFL-CIO should establish a union untouched by corruption to which the teamsters can belong.

New Treasurer Named

Joseph Bianco was appointed village treasurer to succeed Mrs. Alice Brown, who submitted her resignation effective June 1. Mrs. Brown said she did not have the time to devote to the position.

Mayor O'Leary reported that a check of village records indicated two village-owned buildings of the water department were not insured for fire. It was voted to insure the buildings.

The plane on which an actor was flying across darkest Africa crashed in a very heavy jungle. He was the only one of the passengers or crew able to walk so he started out for help. He had gone a few miles when he was set upon by a band of half-naked black men. They quickly subdued him, tied him up and carted him off to their village.

Chief—So you're an actor. That's fine. Sit down next to me. I want to tell you a few stories.

The stories that the chief told were risqué but they had the actor holding his sides with laughter.

Chief—I have a yen for spiced ham.

'Minnesota' Designed for Two-Level Lot

Rooms ... Six
Bedrooms ... Three
Closets ... Nine
Cubage: House ... 29,500 ft.
Garage ... 4,000 ft.
Dimensions ... 59' x 39'

Featuring an unusually attractive exterior, "The Minnesota," offered today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is specifically designed to be built on a sloping lot. This modern home also has a special appeal for prospective home owners with growing families, because "The Minnesota" contains a second story which can be finished at your convenience.

With overall dimensions of 59' x 39', "The Minnesota" has a cubage of 29,500 feet. Cubage of the garage is 4,000 feet. At least a 90 foot lot would be required to build the house plus the attached garage.

On the upper level at the front of the house is the unusually spacious living room. Measuring 20' x 18', the living room boasts a wealth of windows which make this room unusually bright and cheerful; they make it ideally suitable for a gathering place for friends and family. Adding to this impression of cheerful friendliness and also providing decorative interest for the room is the large fireplace centered in the front wall.

Since the front door opens directly into the central hallway it's not necessary to go through the living room to get from one room in the house to another. Stairs also lead from this hallway to the basement and to the second story of "The Minnesota." And, stairs also lead from this hallway to the rear section of the house built on the lower level of the lot.

The den or guest room, which is so designed that it may be used as a library-den, can serve as a regular bedroom until such time as you have the second story of "The Minnesota" completed. Since the room contains two closets, storage will present no problem, whatever the use to which the room is put.

Thoroughly modern and carefully planned, the kitchen is comfortably large; it contains a good sized breakfast nook in addition to an abundance of storage cupboards and cabinets as well as counter space.

Upstairs, space is provided for two bedrooms and an all-modern bath. Both bedrooms enjoy good lighting and cross ventilation. There also is ample closet storage space in each of the rooms. No space is provided in the house proper for the laundry. Therefore your laundry equipment should be placed in the basement, under either the kitchen or the lavatory. The heating plant should be installed under the living room.

As with all two level houses "The Minnesota" offers unusual opportunities to achieve unusual decorative effects both inside and out. The clever homemaker will make the most of these opportunities.

How to Remove Wallpaper From Plastered Wall

When removing old wallpaper from plastered walls, wet the paper with warm water, using a wide brush or a sponge; then scrape off the paper with a putty knife.

Work in vertical strips from top to bottom, rescaling the paper when it does not come off with only moderate scraping pressure.

On heavy or varnished wallpaper—where the water does not soak through easily—sandpaper the surface before applying water.

For especially tough jobs, consider the use of a commercial wallpaper remover (usually a powder to be mixed with water) or a rented steaming machine.

If you add washing soda to the water, it will aid in softening the wallpaper paste but will mar adjoining woodwork if you are not extra careful.

Don't make the two most common mistakes—failing to allow the softening agent time to penetrate and failing to rescale the paper when it doesn't scrape off easily.

Don't fail, after the paper has been removed, to wash the walls with clear warm water to remove any remaining traces of paste and paper.

Don't forget to apply blue sizing to the walls before putting on new wallpaper.

Wax Window Trim

A quick shower when the windows are open will often leave stains on the inside window trim. If you coat this trim with paste wax, the stains won't remain and the paint will last longer.

If you have to remove a piece of wood held by finishing nails and you can't pull out the nails or pry off the wood with them still in place, take a small punch and drive the head of the nail right through the board. The small hole left by this operation can be easily filled with putty or plastic wood.

Floor Lamp Best Light For Pianist

Handsome as that cherished piano may be, it's the sheet music and the keyboard that must be properly lighted.

Comfort for the eyes of the pianist is more important than lamp decoration for the piano. That's why a swivel-arm floor lamp is the best choice for piano lighting among the readily available lamps that are scientifically designed to give correct light.

The lamp can be placed conveniently out of room traffic while the arm swings the light at the right angle and close to the score.

The bulb should be three-way and the shade should be translucent enough for a glow of light to come through. It shouldn't show a bright spot, and it should not opaque.

Lighting-application engineers particularly recommend reflector and projector bulbs with flood distribution for the piano, in swivel sockets at the ceiling or in partially recessed mountings for lower ceilings.

But the rule about using general lighting with a direct light still applies. No light for the piano should be used alone. Darkness around it makes any light hard on the eyes.

How to Fix Hole Through Plaster

A hole completely through plaster or plasterboard is difficult to fix, because there is nothing to back up the patch. Try this:

Cut a piece of plasterboard slightly larger than the hole, of a shape that can be slipped through the opening at an angle. Smear plasterboard joint cement on this piece, slip it up against the back of the plaster so that the cement beds and holds it in place. When the cement is dry the patch can be completed. To provide a handle for pulling the piece into place drive a nail through it from the back.

Never Stand Brush On End of Bristles

Never stand a paint brush on the tips of its bristles. This carelessness will cause the brush to take on a bend that cannot be removed. Brushes to be soaked in solvents should be suspended by the handles.

Drilling a small hole through a brush handle near the heel of the brush, makes it easy to insert a stiff wire, which running from one edge of a can to the other, will keep the brush hanging in an upright position.

Light Furniture

Furniture that's light and airy in design often fits where heavy furniture won't. In a corner, for example, that isn't used. The lost space there might be reclaimed with a good arrangement of light scaled furniture, to make quite a gain for the room in both convenience and good looks.

Wood Paneling

Wood paneling is being used more frequently today than at any time since the era of Christopher Wren. Sir Christopher designed St. Paul's Cathedral and many other churches and famous buildings after the great fire of London in 1666.

End Faucet Squeal

A squealing water faucet can usually be quieted by unscrewing the six sided nut surrounding the stem under the handle and filling it with lubricating grease used by service stations. Be sure to shut off the water to the faucet before starting the job.

Kitchen Hardware

Kitchen hardware goes a long way toward setting the mood of the kitchen. Wood kitchen cabinets are available with many hardware styles such as wrought iron or copper for a colonial touch, ornate for a provincial mood, or concealed hardware in contemporary cabinets.

Washers Do the Trick

If you don't want to be bothered with countersinking screw heads, slip a stop washer onto the screw before it's installed. These little washers will prevent the screw head chewing up the wood when the screw is tightened.

Mild Cleaning

Rubber tile becomes prematurely cracked, curled or dried out because of harsh cleaners, failure to rinse thoroughly, or use of lacquers, shellac or varnish. Switch to a mild cleaner and stop using lacquer or similar finishes.

Modern Heating Units Save Space

One of the problems in building or modernizing a small basement house is that there often doesn't seem to be any place to put the furnace without sacrificing expensive floor space that's badly needed for family living.

The problem can be solved with modern equipment however. These three ways of doing it are suggested:

1. Use a specially designed, space-saving type of furnace so trim and compact it will fit in a small closet.

2. Install a horizontal furnace in a crawl space.

3. Install a horizontal furnace in an attic.

Some models of the first type measure as little as 14 inches wide and 28 inches deep. The closet need be little larger, for this is a "zero clearance" unit approved for installation with its sides and back touching closet walls. In remodeling work, if a suitable closet doesn't exist, one can usually be made by boxing off a corner of a room.

The horizontal furnace in a crawl space of a shallow attic doesn't take up any living area at all. Instead of standing upright, it lies on its side. The ducts that carry warm air to the rooms can fan out through the crawl space to terminate in outlets in the floor, walls, or baseboard, or through the attic to outlets in the ceiling.

Scout Pack 12 Meeting Views Webelos Ritual

Three Cub Scouts of Cub Scout Pack 12 attained their Webelos badges, the highest rank in Cub Scouting, during a special ceremony this week at Old Dutch Church.

Cubmaster Wendell Nason, dressed in authentic Navajo Indian costume, presented the Indian pipe to Richard Frasch, Jeffrey Elwyn and John Osterhout behind the Webelos ceremonial board to Akela.

Two Boys Graduated

Since the formation of the Webelos den at the January pack meeting, all Cubs who started the original den have attained the rank of Webelos. Two of these boys have graduated into Scouting.

Prior to the Webelos ceremony the annual charter symbolizing the reorganization of the pack was presented by Neighborhood Commissioner Thomas Orr.

The program included skits by Den 1 and the Webelos den on the Indian theme.

Achievement awards made by Committeeman James Scully were as follows:

Michael Andrews, Barry Brace and Gustave deOlde, Wolf badge; Edward Argulewitz, Bobcat badge; James Scully, Sean Burns and Robert Priest, Gold Arrow on Wolf badge; William Miller, David Hammers, Robert Priest, Stephen Heitz and James Clark, Bear badge; Russell Witkowski and Russell Melton, Gold Arrow on Bear badge; Alan Ford and Stephen Otis, Silver Arrow on Bear badge; Jeffrey Elwyn, John Osterhout and Richard Frasch, Webelos badge and Jeffrey Elwyn, assistant denner badge.

Better Floor Sanding

You will do a better job of sanding floors if proper equipment is used. One machine cannot do the whole job. Both a floor sanding machine and an edging machine are needed. The edger sands near the walls where the large sander cannot reach.

Proposed Junior High Questions and Answers

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

QUESTION: Why wasn't the Hasbrouck Park site selected as the place to build the new junior high school?

ANSWER: Hasbrouck Park is needed as a site for an elementary school to replace schools 3 and 4 and a part of 5 in the future. Now our immediate need is for a new junior high school. Had the Hasbrouck Park site been selected we would have had to build a kindergarten through 9th grade school, and thus increase our bond issue by one third to one half more. Also the Hasbrouck Park site would not be within a reasonable walking distance for the vast majority of our junior high school students.

QUESTION: Why was the Dietz Stadium site chosen for the new junior high school?

ANSWER: Your Board of Education made a prolonged study of several possible sites for the new junior high school. They selected the Dietz Stadium site for these reasons:

1. It was recommended by the State Department of Education.
2. A large percentage of our junior high pupils live within easy walking distance.
3. The nearness of Forsyth Park with its 18.55 acres for recreational facilities.
4. The availability of the stadium for physical education and related sports.
5. The board of education already owned the land and need buy only two properties to provide driveway and parking facilities.

QUESTION: Will the location of a junior high school at the Dietz Stadium necessarily cause traffic congestion in the uptown area.

ANSWER: No. Entrances and exits will be provided through Joy's Lane and through Forsyth Park to Lucas avenue and through the Ulster county quarry entrance to Hurley avenue. A fourth entrance and exit would be, of course, the present one from Washington avenue to Joy's Lane. The present congestion might even be relieved as those school buses, which now pass through this area, can be rerouted.

QUESTION: Could the present Myron J. Michael School house all the junior high school pupils from schools 6, 7, 8 and the George Washington School?

ANSWER: No. The capacity of the Myron J. Michael School is about 630 pupils (21 classrooms with 30 pupils each). The number of pupils coming from these uptown schools plus the number of 9th grade pupils from the uptown parochial schools will be greater by 1961 than the capacity of the MJM School.

QUESTION: Why must the ninth grade pupils be housed in the junior high school?

ANSWER: Kingston High School is already crowded beyond its capacity and needs immediate relief. The only way we can secure this relief economically is to move the ninth grades out of the high school. Also, for the best educational program these 9th grade pupils should be with the 7th and 8th grades and not with the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

QUESTION: Will we keep out tax rate down by not building the new junior high school now?

ANSWER: Absolutely not. We will save from 10 to 15 dollars per thousand per year on our tax rate if we build the new junior high school now. Your Board of Education has always tried to give Kingston children the best possible education at the most economical cost. Your board urges you to vote "YES" on the bond issue, not for any personal glory for there is none, but because they are intensely interested in the educational welfare of the Kingston children, and they know you are too.

20-Cent Hike Halts Troy Area Strikes

Troy, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—A wage increase of 20 cents an hour over a two-year period brought to an end last night a laborers' strike that had halted construction in Troy and four neighboring communities for three days.

Approximately 350 members of Local 452 of the Laborers Union and 700 other construction workers planned to resume work Monday on nine projects in Troy, Cohoes, Watervliet, Green Island and Latham.

The laborers walked out Wednesday in a dispute over the effective date of welfare benefits they sought. The other workers honored their picket lines.

Union and contractor negotiators agreed on a boost of 7 1/2 cents an hour in the benefits at last night's session but set no date for the increase to take effect.

New Hampshire Wins Maple Syrup Honors

Syracuse, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—New Hampshire, whose state tree is the white birch, also does well with her maples.

The New England state won first place in New York state's second annual Maple Festival yesterday. Syrup from the farm of J. H. Fedden and Sons of Woodstock, N. H., was judged the best in a taste-test contest.

The Province of Ontario took second place. Its syrup was produced by Frank Tackaberry of Plum Hollow, Ont.

New York joined Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Massachusetts and Michigan in the also-rans. The order of finish was not announced.

A year ago, syrup from Vermont and Michigan tied for first place in the initial competition. New York's product placed third.

40,500 Chrysler Workers Idled by Wildcat Strikes

Detroit, May 4 (AP)—Wildcat strikes stemming from a dispute over job transfer rights idled 40,500 hourly rated workers at Chrysler Corp. plants in the Detroit area yesterday.

The walkouts shut down production of Plymouth, Dodge, Chrysler and Imperial cars. Only DeSoto output continued. Over-time operations for today were canceled.

The workers were sent home by the company when the walk-out of interplant truck drivers cut off supplies to assembly lines. The truck drivers stayed off their jobs in protest over the firing of a driver and a United Auto Workers Union committeeman. The company and UAW officials said the work stoppage was unauthorized.

The strike stemmed from a long-standing dispute between Chrysler and UAW Local 212 over the movement of some stamping division operations to a new plant at Twinsburg, Ohio.

Population Doubled

Riverhead, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Preliminary figures from a special census show that the population of Suffolk county has nearly doubled since 1950. The county census figures disclosed yesterday listed 528,836 residents, compared with 276,193 seven years ago. The increase is expected to mean a gain of more than $600,000 a year in state aid to the Long Island county.

MRS. FRANK BECKER (Pennington photo)

Agnes Young of Ruby Weds Frank Becker In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Wendelin's

On Saturday, April 27, at 10 a. m. before a nuptial Mass at St. Wendelin's Church in Ruby, Miss Agnes Mary Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Young Jr., of Ruby, became the bride of Frank Becker, son of Mrs. Edwin Ward of Kingston and the late Frank Becker.

The Rev. James Dunnigan, pastor of St. Ann's Church in Sawkill, officiated. It was a double ring ceremony.

Nan Goldrick was at the organ and Martin Kelly sang several selections.

Lilies and spring flowers decorated the church and the pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a mandarin collar. The bouffant skirt of lace featured a pleated godet of nylon tulle and extended into a circular chapel length train. A crown of starched lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins secured the hand rolled French illusion veil.

The bride carried a white orchid on a prayer book and showered swansonia.

Miss Mary McCue, cousin of the bride, from Brooklyn, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of lilac nylon chiffon fashioned with a shirred and fitted bodice, rounded neckline and abbreviated sleeves. The full flowing skirt was floor length and featured long streamers at the back. She wore a matching crown with a tulle flirtation veil. Miss McCue carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

Bridesmaids included Miss Eileen Heins, 46 Janet street, Miss Janice Stauble, 31 Arlmont street, both cousins of the bride. Mrs. Herbert Waterous of Woodstock and a junior bridesmaid, Miss Cathy Ertelt of Troy, a niece of the bride.

REPAYING FRIENDS FOR THEIR KINDNESS

A reader explains: "I am a single woman with many married friends. They often include me in their parties and ask me to dinner and then to a movie. I can do nothing much in return as I have just a very small place. I feel that I don't want to be a drain on these friends, most of whom are struggling to get along. Therefore when we go to the movies, I think the least I can do is pay my own way. My offer is always rejected and I don't like to make a scene about it. I would very much appreciate your telling me what I can do."

On occasion, buy tickets in advance and invite these friends to go with you.

They Want No Wedding Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning to be married this summer for a second time and my fiancé and I both feel that we would like to ask our guests not to give us presents. We would rather they give the money they would spend on a wedding present to their church or a charitable organization. Would this be proper? If so, how should we tell them? I plan to send handwritten invitations. Could a statement be included in the invitation and how should it be worded? Or should our request be by spoken word?

Answer: If you really don't want any presents, you could add a postscript to your note and say, "Please do not send us a wedding present. We are asking all our friends not to." But please do not say what they should do with the money.

Two Receiving Lines?

Dear Mrs. Post: Does the receiving line which sometimes forms at the back of the church after the wedding, eliminate the necessity for receiving at the reception?

Answer: The only time the bride and groom receive at the church (in the vestibule) is when the reception is so very small that only relatives and a few friends are invited. In this case, those invited to the reception should go directly there and wait to be received.

When and how to announce the engagement are described in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Announcing the Engagement." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Membership Drive to Conclude Next Week For Concert Series: 'Butterfly' Scheduled

Puccini's popular opera, "Madam Butterfly," sung in English will be the offering of the NBC Opera Company when it appears in Kingston early next winter for members of Community Concerts Association. Only those who become members of the association before noon next Saturday will be able to attend the opera as well as two other outstanding programs planned for the group. Memberships may be obtained from workers or at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel next week.

Although casts for next season's touring company, the second such venture for NBC, have not been announced, the leads will be among the outstanding voices of the day. Last year, soloists included Elaine Malbin, Frances Bible, Adelaide Bishop, Phyllis Curtin, Edith Evans, Walter Cassel, Ralph Herbert and Emile Renan.

The company of 100 will include a 45 piece orchestra. The production with costumes and sets is dedicated to theatrical effect as well as vocal splendor.

The opera company is guided by top management and creative personnel. The guiding spirit of the touring company is Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC president; producer is Samuel Chotzinoff, NBC general music director and producer of the NBC-TV Opera Theatre. Peter Herman Adler is music and artistic director and Broadway producer Chandler Cowles is general manager.

The original tour was launched by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, in a dramatic announcement during the television broadcast of "Butterfly" a year ago.

Immediate response to the program came from Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan.

In extending best wishes, he said, "The plan itself shows the vision that everyone has come to expect from you and should be welcomed by everybody who has the development of opera in this country at heart. I hope and trust that the expansion of the NBC Opera Company into the field of touring will meet with success. It is an important and daring enterprise."

The local concerts are given at the Community Theatre, Broadway, where the association moved last year to be able to offer more memberships for the area. The group had outgrown the high school auditorium and the theatre afforded approximately 500 more seats or memberships.

New Board Members

With the vastness of the project now undertaken each year, the local board recently voted to enlarge its membership. New members, who will be introduced at the workers meeting Sunday afternoon include Miss Mary Keresman, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, Mrs. L. V. Bogert, Cantor Julian Lore, the Rev. Kenneth Neal Alexander, Horace Bailer, Stuart Munson and Townsend J. Rifenburg. The slate for new directors was presented by John A. McCullough, chairman, Mrs. Louis Kegler and Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom.

The kick-off meeting for the final week of membership drive will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Sunday, 4:30 p. m. Arrangements have been made

Miss Vivian Zickler Weds in Wallkill

The Hamptonburgh Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Vivian L. Zickler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Zickler Jr. of Montgomery, and George Backofen Sr. of Wallkill Saturday, April 27.

Spring flowers and music by Harry Kelso at the organ formed the background for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Getaz at 1 p. m.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over nylon tulle and a princess cap to hold her fingertip veil, and carried white roses.

Janet Zickler, maid of honor, for her sister wore a green tulle and white Chantilly lace gown and carried yellow spring flowers. The bridesmaids, Carole Backofen of Wallkill, sister of the bridegroom, Ruth Grass of Plattsburg, and Marilyn Reichert of Montgomery wore yellow tulle gowns and white Chantilly lace and carried assorted spring flowers.

Martha Backofen of Wallkill, cousin of the bridegroom was flower girl and wore a white nylon dress and carried yellow spring flowers.

School 3 P-TA Endorses Junior High School Bond

Endorsement of the proposed bond issue for a new junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area was voted at a recent meeting of the executive board of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 3.

Reasons given for the board's action were:

The new junior high school is urgently needed now. Waiting another year will harm our children.

The sooner this immediate problem is taken care of the sooner plans will be forthcoming for a new grade school in the Hasbrouck Park area.

A grade school is needed more than a junior high downtown. Center of population uptown justified junior high being built there.

Failure to have the bond issue go through will mean increased enrollment in grade schools to relieve junior high; transfer of pupils to downtown schools to relieve situations of overcrowding in other schools; probable double sessions.

Members of the executive board are: Mrs. Frank Woerner, Mrs. James Lindsay, Mrs. Harold Waterman, Mrs. Joseph Hoffbauer, Mrs. Edwin Ellsworth, Mrs. Louis Otto, Miss Mary Polhemus, Leon Hobbs, Mrs. Warren Russell, Miss Rosemary Scully.

To Elect May 28

Plans were also made at the session for the meeting May 28 at which officers will be elected. Arrangements were also made for the all-school picnic to be held June 4 at Hasbrouck Park.

Mrs. Edwin Ellsworth and Mrs. Michael Bailey, chairmen of the girl scout troop committee card party May 21 at School 3, requested that all who wish to donate prizes leave them with Mrs. Bailey, 43 Newkirk avenue or Mrs. Ellsworth, 48 Newkirk, or at the school.

Plans were made to attend the P-TA convention at Ellenville May 9. Reservations must be in by May 5. Anyone wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Werner, 935-R or the school, 1973.

A square dance will be held by the P-TA Council May 18 at the Kate Walton Field House. Tickets may be procured from the school or from any member of the executive board, also Mrs. June VanDerZee or Mrs. Michael Bailey.

Concert Group Slates NBC Opera Production

Woodstock, May 3—The NBC Opera Company's production of "Madam Butterfly" will be the major attraction next season for the Kingston Community Concert Association members.

The group which brought the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra to Kingston last season, is currently conducting its annual membership drive.

In the Woodstock area folks may subscribe with Mrs. Hans Cohn, Abram Molyneux, or Mrs. Harry Kennedy, Bearsview.

The campaign closes Saturday noon, May 11, after which all memberships will be closed. No single admissions to concerts are ever sold. Membership cards are the admission tickets to all programs.

The Kingston association has a 28-year history, one of the oldest organizations in the United States whose sole purpose is to bring the best possible concert artists and programs to Kingston. By recruiting the membership first and buying the talent after the close of the drive, the season is planned with no profit, no loss to anyone.

The artists for the other two programs planned next year will be announced as the campaign progresses. Naturally the more members the better the talent.

All programs will be given at Community Theatre, Broadway, where the concerts were given for the first time last year. The association has been a complete sell-out for the past six seasons.

Concerts were held in the Kingston High School auditorium for a number of years but when the membership grew so large, the directors decided to move to the theatre. About 500 memberships were added because of the greater seating capacity.

Activities Scheduled

Woodstock, May 3—The first square dance to be sponsored by Woodstock Fire Company No. 2, will be held at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club, Saturday at 9 p. m. Russ Carpenter's band will play.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will meet Tuesday evening at the clubhouse. A plastic party will be held and everyone is welcome to attend. Members have been asked to bring guests.

Orders Special Sermons

New York, May 4 (AP)—The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York, noting the forthcoming appearance of the Rev. Dr. Billy Graham, has ordered a series of nine sermons on Catholic doctrine. In a directive to pastors, the archdiocese noted that Dr. Graham "will conduct a religious revival at Madison Square Garden." It continued: "Before and during this revival there will be much discussion regarding the subject matter of his talks. Catholics will be drawn into these discussions and called upon for the Catholic viewpoint."

NATO Warns

East German kinsmen from the Red grip.
 But West German Socialist Leader Erich Ollenhauer wants to see his country out of the Atlantic Alliance—the price he thinks Russia will accept for allowing the two Germanies to reunite.

Lately the issue has been dramatized by this problem: Should West Germany's emerging army be equipped with nuclear weapons only 12 years after being vanquished in a global war of its own making?

The Kremlin already has warned Adenauer his country might become one big "cemetery" if he answers yes. By joining his 14 Atlantic Pact partners in their latest statement, Adenauer has done just that.

Parley Called 'Fiasco'

Immediately after the NATO allies issued their declaration, the West German Socialists termed the parley "a fiasco."

Socialist spokesman Fritz Heine asserted the conference not only had failed to solve any of Germany's problems, but that it also represented the "biggest intervention so far by the foreign powers" in the country's internal affairs.

Heine's statement clearly was only the opening shot of the dogged Socialist campaign to oust Adenauer. Hotter blasts were expected May 10 when Parliament debates the issue.

The NATO communiqué also is expected to bring resounding echoes of criticism far beyond Germany's borders.

Around the world people and governments have been debating the programs of the big powers in continuing to build up their nuclear stockpiles and test them. The effects on human health of radioactive fallout which follows most nuclear blasts, is still a subject of controversy among scientists on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Paltz College

bedrooms, a recreation room in the basement and is well equipped with modern facilities, appliances and heating systems. President Haggerty pointed out that the lodge is so constructed that its use on a year-round basis would be possible.

Also on the property is a large, well-constructed barn which can be partitioned to transform it into a dormitory which could house about 50 students.

A short distance below the lodge, Esopus creek runs through the land and cascades over the ruins of an old mill to form a scenic waterfall. The creek then continues under an historic covered bridge which is held together with wooden pegs.

Tentative plans are to dam up the creek to form a lake suitable for boating and swimming or for ice skating in the winter. President Haggerty said that general use of the property is not possible at the present time but he expressed the hope that college organizations could make reservations for its use in the not-too-distant future.

"Perhaps," he said, "some of the Freshman Orientation Week activities could be held there in the future."

Ulster School

Chambers Union Free School District, which is only one of a number of contracting districts, paid to the city of Kingston Board of Education about $27,000 in tuition for students registered from the seventh grade through high school.

In addition, the city of Kingston Board of Education receives from the State Department of Education the sum of $412.55 for each non-resident student as state aid based on average daily attendance. By using the number of non-resident students, as quoted by Mr. Yates, "we find the sum of over $500,000 being received in state aid alone."

"We as elected school board members most certainly realize our obligations and to that end many hours of time are being given to solve the future education of this area and in a neighborly sincere fashion. With honest facts and with our entire area in mind this will be done."

Probers Checking

conduct of some union leaders county, Pa.

Committee sources said a preliminary check is being made to determine whether the committee should look into the telephone strike which was marked by violence. The company blamed the communication workers union, but a National Labor Relations Board examiner last month blamed the company. Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), also a committee member, said he has given the committee evidence of alleged improper dealing between some local officials of the United Mine Workers Union and some mine operators in Luzerne county.

Mother's Love

Detroit (AP)—Detroit zoo officials suspect that a broken heart killed High Hat, a female giraffe. She refused to eat regularly for a year after her calf was born dead. Her death was blamed in part on malnutrition.

State Forests

Ordered Closed

Starting Today

Syracuse, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Outdoor sportsmen today faced the problem of seeking weekend recreation in other than New York state's tinder-dry woodlands.

Gov. Harriman yesterday signed an order putting the forests off limits at 12:30 p. m. (EDT) today. Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauns had reported the woods were "very flammable, very dangerous." Nearly all fishing, hunting and trapping is banned by the order.

The forests, closed because of the long spring dry spell, will remain shut down until rain ends the extreme fire hazard. The weather bureau in Albany said no rain was expected at least until Tuesday, and then only scattered showers.

Thirty-five forest fires, including one that burned 300 acres atop Schunemunk Mountain in Orange county, were reported yesterday across the state.

Harriman's order closed all woodlands, and open lands and waters in forest areas. The only hunting or fishing allowed will be from boats on lakes accessible to normal motor vehicle traffic.

Camping is prohibited except in supervised parks and in regularly maintained state campsites in the forest preserve.

Motorists may travel on roads through the forest preserve and travel is permitted in the course of necessary business or to homes.

Earnings . . .

3 billion dollars. That's nearly 8 per cent more than the same companies earned together in the first quarter of last year.

Not All Share

Not all shared in the windfall. Some 212 corporations fell prey to rising costs and lagging business profits. Profits were down 5 per cent, manufacturers of paper and paper products showed an 18 per cent decline and producers of copper and other nonferrous metals reported a combined dip of more than 25 per cent.

Declines were more than offset, though, by sensational gains in other categories (profits of electrical equipment manufacturers took a 74.4 per cent jump, partly because of Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s recovery from a crippling strike last year; oil company earnings climbed 19 per cent as the Suez crisis spurred demand for U.S. oil).

Might Loose Luster

There were hints that in the coming months, the boom in corporate profits might lose some of its luster. For example: United States Steel Corp. reported a first quarter profit of 11 1/2 million dollars. That's 11 per cent more than Big Steel earned in the first three months of 1956 and a record high for any quarter.

These lush earnings are based, however, on a first quarter production rate of 96 per cent. Right now U. S. Steel, along with the rest of the industry, is coasting along at about 90 per cent of capacity. This rate is likely to continue through June, said Big Steel's Chairman Roger M. Blough, and in the third quarter it may trend lower, not only because of the usual summer vacations and the summer heat, but also because of "some drop-off in business."

The First National City Bank of New York commented this week that the boom can no longer rely on whirlwind spending by big business and little consumers—that government spending will have to provide the main stimulus from here on.

Along the same lines, the Federal Reserve Board wound up its study of consumer credit by observing that the 1955 boom in auto sales—largely financed by easy credit—wasn't likely to happen again. That was Detroit's biggest and boomingest year. Americans bought 6 1/2 million spanking new automobiles—4 1/2 million of them "on time."

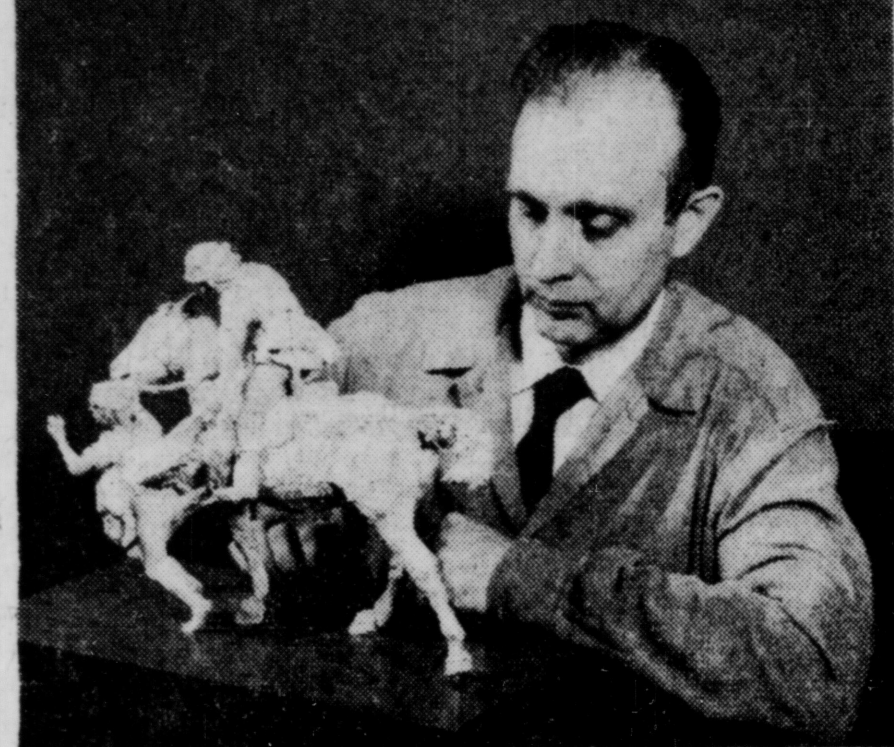

Credit terms were liberal—nothing down and 36 months to pay. Many buyers are still making payments on the cars they bought 2 1/2 years ago. So they're still out of the new car market.

In March, the Federal Reserve Board reported, Americans added 40 million dollars to their installment debt. In the same month of 1955, when the auto buying spree was on, installment debt sprang up for a net gain of 447 million dollars.

Briefly over the business scene: Glidden Co. is raising consumer paint prices 3 1/2 per cent next week . . . but instant coffee prices are trending lower . . . average prices received by farmers last month climbed to their highest point since last July . . . machine tool shipments are expected to continue at a high level this year but may not reach the 886 million dollars recorded in 1956 . . . the Federal Housing Administration received 16,205 mortgage applications in March, a healthy gain over the 12,102 received in February but well below the 24,884 applications filed in March last year . . . directors of American Can Co. and Dixie Cup Co. voted to merge . . . Frank Pace Jr., former secretary of the army, was elected president of General Dynamics Corp. . . . The Bicycle Institute of America has designated May as "American Bicycle Month" . . . Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. has shortened its name to "Union Carbide Corp." now.

LOCAL SCULPTOR'S EXHIBIT—Lewis S. Brown, of Kingston, exhibits his sculpture depicting an equestrian chasing a young girl which was inspired by a story by Bocaccio. The work is currently on display "Equestrian Holiday," an exhibition of the after-works of employees of The American Museum of Natural History, New York city, where Mr. Brown works as a preparator in the exhibition department. The art show, on view in the Museum's Corner Gallery through June 16, is open to the public during the Museum's regular hours.

etc. This, of course, impairs the functional use of these special facilities and curtails the program to the extent that the loss of state aid would be almost a certainty. This loss on the students we now have, not counting any increased enrollment, could amount to $74,000 per year which imposes an additional tax burden on Kingston of $1.90, or 40¢ more than the cost of construction.

"You have heard the proposal that we refuse the non-resident children and thereby solve our problem. It has been shown that this is only a temporary solution for very soon the created space would be crammed with Kingston boys and girls. In the meantime, what would the financial results be? The 1400 non-resident children are bringing to the Kingston school district an annual income of $780,000 in state aid and tuition. It is true that if these children were not in the schools expenses could be cut, but by how much? Perhaps 45 teachers could be released at a saving of $240,000. Textbook and supplies expenditures could be reduced substantially but this only amounts to a yearly total of $80,000 for the entire system so a $30,000 reduction would be a high estimate. All other savings might possibly amount to $20,000 making the total savings approximately $290,000. The net loss in money to the district would therefore amount to about $490,000 annually. It is difficult to imagine what a burden this would impose on the taxpayers of Kingston. Every time $40,000 is put into the school budget the tax rate increases by $1.00. Since the Kingston school district is not only a jocular Irishman and a good Marine." McCarthy was an intelligence officer.

Meantime, former Sen. Herman Welker, an Idaho Republican, said yesterday in Boise he thinks the 1954 Senate censure of McCarthy's conduct contributed to McCarthy's death. Welker said "Joe was never physically the same" after McCarthy's censure.

Welker said he plans to attend the memorial services here Monday and that he also will go to the Wisconsin funeral.

Marine Lt. Col. Glenn Todd, McCarthy's commanding officer in the Pacific during World War 2, said last night he remembers McCarthy as "a jovial Irishman and a good Marine." McCarthy was an intelligence officer.

On Rough Missions
 "Joe was a good guy to us," Todd said in Los Angeles. "He did things that I he needn't have done and wasn't expected to do, particularly flying on missions. That wasn't part of his duties."

"But he flew missions, anyway, 27 in all, I believe. . . . I believe the record shows that Joe got a Distinguished Flying Cross and five air medals. He deserved every one of them. He volunteered to go on the rougher flights."

Todd, an Episcopalian, and a few other area residents who knew McCarthy, arranged for a Catholic memorial Mass to be said Monday at St. Charles Catholic Church in North Hollywood.

Lions Furnishing Blind With Canes

All area blind persons desiring canes are being supplied with them by the sight conservation and blind committee of the Kingston Lions Club.

Under the "White Cane Law" of New York state drivers of vehicles approaching an intersection or crosswalk where a pedestrian is attempting to cross carrying such a cane shall grant the right of way to such pedestrian.

This phase of the Lions Club sight conservation and blind program is being coordinated by Donald Decker of Port Ewen.

Law Cited
 The following is the "White Cane Law."

"It shall be unlawful for any person, unless totally or partially blind, or otherwise similarly incapacitated, while on any public street or highway, to carry in a raised or extended position a cane or walking stick which is metallic or white in color or white tipped with red."

Whenever a pedestrian is crossing or attempting to cross a public street or highway at or near an intersection or crosswalk, and is guarded by a "seeing eye" or guide dog, or is carrying in a raised position a cane or walking stick which is metallic or white in color or white with red tip, the driver of every vehicle approaching such intersection or crosswalk shall grant the right of way to such pedestrians.

"Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as making obligatory the employment of the use of a 'seeing eye' or guide dog or of a cane of any kind by a person totally or partially blind or otherwise similarly incapacitated."

Set Kindergarten Registration Here May 13-17

Kindergarten registration will be held during the week of May 13-17, according to plans outlined at a recent meeting of the Kingston Elementary Schools principals' cabinet.

The dates announced were designated "Kindergarten Registration and Visitation Week."

Are All Welcome
 All children who plan to enter kindergarten in the Kingston city schools in September 1957 are welcome, and encouraged to visit the kindergartens in the public schools of the city. Parents are requested in registering their children to present birth certificates as evidence of age. Children are eligible to enter kindergarten in September 1957 if they will be four years nine months old not later than September 8, 1957.

The elementary principals and Mrs. Marian Gregory, elementary supervisor, are making plans to present the parents with a kindergarten handbook with suggested procedures at registration time.

Colonial Golf Halted by Rain

Fort Worth, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Bob Rosburg and thousands of golf fans were a little bitter about "Black Friday" at the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation as the field tried to get in the tournament's second round today.

For the third time in the 11-year history of the tournament the Friday round was wiped out because of rain. This time it came just as Rosburg had taken over the lead at 27 holes.

While the front runners of the opening round faltered, Rosburg, who had 69 the first round, had moved ahead with even par 35 on the front nine and his 104 had given him a stroke lead over the other 14 players of the field of 48 who had finished the first of the second round.

The two first-round leaders—Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa.—started the second round tied with 68's. Littler had 37 for the front nine and Wall had skied to 3-over-par when rain washed out the second round scores.

QUESTION MARK—A question mark has been superimposed on this photo of General Duke to indicate that the status of the horse for the 83rd Kentucky Derby is still in doubt. Photo was taken after General Duke had a workout at Churchill Downs, Ky. (NEA Telephoto)

Nine Definite in Derby; Gen. Duke Still Doubtful

Louisville, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Nine 3-year-old colts were poised today for the mile and one-quarter of the second richest Kentucky Derby before a crowd of some 100,000 at Churchill Downs.

But the starting status of the 10th member of the class field entered Thursday for the 83rd running of the turf classic remained in doubt pending a final workout this morning by Calumet Farm's injured Gen. Duke.

Trainer Jimmy Jones said he planned to send the son of Bull Lea a quarter-mile around 9 a. m. (EDT) and then hoped to make a decision whether the colt will be in the starting lineup at 5:30 p. m. EDT.

However, Jones can wait until 45 minutes before post time to decide whether the Duke's left front foot has healed sufficiently to permit him to join stablemate Iron Liege in the post parade. He said, however, he preferred to make a decision early to protect the fans who make their derby bets in the morning.

Injury Improved—The latest stallside report said Gen. Duke's injured foot, which became evident after he finished second in Tuesday's Derby Trial, had showed decided improvement.

Clear skies with a decided nip in the air and a lightning fast track were in prospect for the clash of the greatest field ever assembled for America's No. 1 turf spectacle.

Fourteen world and track records either have been broken or equaled this year in seven of the entries in races enroute to the Derby. The speed and staying power of so many horses places in jeopardy the record of 2:01 2/5 set by Whirlaway in 1951.

At the end of the grueling test of speed and stamina under 125 pounds awaits all the honors befitting a champion. To his owner will go a net purse of $109,200.

Ruler 8-5—Bold Ruler, owned by Mrs. H. C. Phlips' Weatley Stable, trained by 82-year old Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by that master, remained the firm choice at 8-5 with prospects his starting odds will be even lower with or without Gen. Duke.

The Ruler and the Duke met four times in Florida. They split even, the Duke won their last clash, beating Bold Ruler by 1 1/2 lengths by equaling the world record of 1:46 4/5 for 1 1/4 miles in the Florida Derby. But the Ruler worked since arriving at the Downs have been just short of sensational.

Arcaro is after his sixth Derby victory, Fitzsimmons his fourth. No other jockey or trainer in the race can match their records. The only other jockeys with previous Derby victories are Willie Shoemaker, who'll be astride Ralph Lowe's Texas-owned Gallant Man, and Dave Erb, down to ride Iron Liege. Shoemaker won with Swaps in 1955 and Erb with Needles last year.

Gallant Man Threat—Gallant Man, young and smallish horse in the race, is considered a serious threat off his ability to strike fast and hard in the home stretch.

All of the other outstanding candidates are either front runners or like to stay close to the early pace. They include Clifford Lusk's Federal Hill, who'll likely attempt to steal a long early lead; Travis M. Kerr's Round Table; Bold Ruler and the Calumet pair.

A victory by any of the others could well be classed an upset. They all have shown speed on occasions, but don't figure to give the likes of Bold Ruler, Gen. Duke, Iron Liege, Gallant Man, Round Table and perhaps Federal Hill a serious argument when it comes to the final quarter mile.

It is generally acknowledged that James D. Norris will never be awarded a Pulitzer or any other type of prize for superior matchmaking.

Big Jim Norris can't even get along with Floyd Patterson, the heavyweight champion of the world.

But as long as the old guys stay around, the International Boxing Club will be in business. It has gotten so that the IBC doesn't have to promote. The older fighters do it for Octopus, Inc.

Two years ago it was the ancient and honorable Archie Moore setting up the Rocky Marciano match in a rather strange way. Moore had knocked out every heavyweight he could get his hands on, but wasn't considered qualified for the shot at the jackpot until he quickly put a lily in the chubby fist of Bobo Olson, a run-o-nine middleweight.

And now 37-year-old Ray Robinson has dramatically knocked out Gene Fullmer to get the big pay-day he sought a little more than a year ago—with Carmen Basilio.

Now that Sugar Ray has fully recovered all of his bucks office magic, that one should do close to $750,000 at Yankee Stadium this summer with theatre television swelling the take to more than a million. Lend leasing the middleweight title has paid Robby rich dividends. That's what he did with Randy Turpin, too.

THE CLEARING OF THE WAY for the Robinson-Basilio hassle is indeed a windfall for the IBC at a time when the One Big Unhappy Monopoly needed it most, what with Cus D'Amato and Patterson refusing to have anything to do with Proprietor Norris. Had the rather slovenly Fullmer repeated his early January decision over Robinson, Norris even might have had to look up Manager D'Amato and Patterson.

Basilio was happier than Robinson when the Sugar Man swatted Fullmer on the old potato at the Chicago Stadium. Robby threw his arm around a smiling Basilio in the dressing room and Emperor George Gainsford stuck a microphone in the onion picker's kisser, so he could tell the folks in Syracuse and the country at large what a fight two champions would make.

Conversely, Robinson was sicker than Basilio when the Canastota clouter dropped a highly debatable decision to horrible Johnny Saxton in the same Chicago Stadium battlepit on March 14 of last year.

ROBINSON'S FIVE MANAGERS—he's down to three now—had ordered new automobiles and otherwise thrown around the upcoming swag when Basilio tossed one of his mighty few off nights against Saxton, the agony fighter. But everything is hunky-dory now that Basilio has twice smashed Saxton to make the Robinson just even more attractive than it was in the first place.

Basilio will concede Robinson everything but age and he's 30 and has been belted more than somewhat. Every start Basilio makes is a war, which accounts for his turnstile appeal. The ignited Italian hardly can come in heavier than 155 pounds and be anything remotely approaching right. This means that he'll spot Robinson seven or eight pounds as well as height and reach.

AND AGAINST FULLMER the second time out, Robinson clearly demonstrated that he remains one of the great one-punch knockers. He's had 91 knockouts and the bulk of his victims were left for seriously dead by the one shot, usually the left hook to the shaving area which melted Iron Man Fullmer.

Basilio pointed out, Fullmer walked into the punch with his chin up in the air. Perhaps Carmen has found a way to tuck in his jaw, although there was no evidence of this in any previous encounter.

Carmen Basilio wades into the other guy with the sign, "WEL-COME," on his chin.

And Sugar Ray Robinson gives these kind comfortable lodging for the night.

Schoolboy Sprinter Dies While Practicing

Buffalo, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—A sprinter on a high school track team died of a heart attack yesterday, his 18th birthday, while practicing on the athletic field.

Richard Wolff, a senior at Kensington High School, collapsed after he ran a practice quarter-mile. Medical examiner Ralph E. Smith said he suffered a heart attack.

Track Coach Ralph Duquin said the boy sat down to rest, complained of feeling sick and then slumped over. Duquin applied artificial respiration until a doctor arrived but was unable to revive Wolff.

Outfielder Out to Repeat

Aaron Off to Flying Start In Bid for Batting Crown

(By The Associated Press)

Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's gifted outfielder, is off to a flying start in his bid to become the first player since Stan Musial and the fifth in modern National League history to capture the batting championship two consecutive seasons.

Hammering Henry probably doesn't know and cares less that Honus Wagner, Rogers Hornsby and Jake Daubert, besides Musial, are the only senior circuit batsmen to win the batting crown two or more years in succession. All he cares about is who is pitching and whether the ball is over the plate or not.

The Braves' 23-year-old slugger, who rapped five hits in six tries Thursday night, followed it up with a home run, triple and double last night to drive in four runs in Milwaukee's 8-7 triumph over Pittsburgh and raised his batting average to a gaudy .391. Only Cincinnati's Don Hoak (.396) and St. Louis' Stan Musial (.393) are higher. Aaron paced the National League hitters last year with .328.

It was Aaron's triple followed by Bobby Thomson's single in the 11th inning that gave the Braves their third straight overtime victory and their sixth triumph in seven one-run decisions. The league leading Braves, who have lost only two games, have taken half their 12 victories by one run.

Chlorox In Spotlight, Too

The Braves shared the spotlight with the Chicago White Sox, who outslugged the Washington Senators 11-6 for their 11th success in 13 games and their fifth in a row. The American League leading White Sox who meet the second place Yankees today in the first of a three game set, were paced by Larry Doby who drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a single. This is the best early season start in White Sox history.

Brooklyn's second place Dodgers remained two games behind the Braves as Don Newcombe shut out St. Louis 6-0 for his ninth straight over the Cardinals. They haven't beaten the big righthander since August 23, 1951. Cincinnati defeated the New York Giants in an 11-10 slugfest with pinch hitter Pete Whisenant drilling a three-run homer to win it in the ninth. Philadelphia won a 9-6 free-for-all from Chicago, picking up three unearned runs on five Cub errors, four by rookie second baseman Casey Young. That tied a National League record held by three other second basemen. The major league record is five.

The Yankees remained two and a half games behind the White Sox beating Kansas City 8-5 on three unearned runs in the seventh. Paul Foytack, aided by outfielder Al Kaline's four spectacular catches, limited Boston to four hits as Detroit shut out the Ted Williamsless Red Sox 6-0. Cold weather in Cleveland prevented the Indians and Baltimore Orioles from playing.

Seeking New Rivals

Machen Wins Over Maxim

Louisville, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Eddie Machen, 190%, a classy athletic specimen, went shopping today for a new opponent in the heavyweight class after scoring his second victory over former light heavyweight champ Joey Maxim, 189, with a unanimous 10-round decision.

"It's awfully hard to get matches," said the unbeaten 24-year-old former lumberjack whose lashing lefts and rights had Maxim in trouble during most of their 10-round televised bout last night.

Manager Sid Flaherty agreed. "We've got some plans but don't know when they'll materialize. Everybody's ducking my boy."

Pleased With Showing

Flaherty said he was pleased with Machen's performance against Maxim. "He was much better than his last time out against Joe down in Florida last January."

Machen, ranked No. 2 nationally, said Maxim, now 35, "didn't give me any more trouble than last time but he moved around a lot more. I was hitting him too high. Then too, he's got a good eye and is still pretty fast."

The fight was the first to be called on Derby eve in Derbytown since Sammy Angott won the NBA lightweight title from Davey Day some 15 years ago. And it attracted only a small crowd estimated at around 2,000.

Women Will Return

Amsterdam, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—A group of 134 women has decided to return to work Monday at Mohasco Industries after union and company officials agreed to take up their complaints. The walkout, which had idled an additional 360 workers at the huge plant, had been termed "unauthorized" by the union, the Textile Workers of America. The women left their jobs Tuesday on the ground that their workloads on twisting machines had been increased. Other workers were sent home when the supply of finished yarn was curtailed because of the walkout.

Favors Erecting School

On May 9th, the school of the City of Kingston will have an opportunity, once again, to exercise their franchise to vote on a very important issue. This issue will concern the future educational facilities afforded our youth. After weighing all the pros and cons presented, I am personally in favor of erecting this new Junior High School for some of the reasons given below:

(1) The Hudson Valley, especially Kingston is growing. (2) In order to keep Kingston in the forefront educationally, proper facilities must be provided. The rapid growth of Kingston's youth population will require a new Junior High within a very few years, no matter how we vote. Therefore, why not do it at today's cost rather than at a possibly much higher cost in the years ahead. No one disputes the fact that we shall have a very definite need very soon.

(3) I resent increased taxes as well as the next one. I also know how hard it is for those in the low income group and those on fixed incomes to meet these increases. However, today's children are required, by business standards, to be better educated than their forebears. In fact, our very existence depends on a high level of education.

Even though you may disagree with the thoughts expressed, and you have every right to do so, at least the exercise of your voting privilege should not be lost by taking a negative position. Should you find his worthwhile to publish, I would appreciate the courtesy shown.

Very truly yours,
VICTOR H. ROTH

School Referendum

Editor, The Freeman: Any one of us who reads the paper has seen a good deal of very purposeful copy on the matter of the Junior High School referendum this coming Tuesday. In the past months, I have received three letters from out-of-state which bear reference to the question. Actually no one of the writers even knows of our proposal here. They are three clergymen who were classmates of mine in Seminary. They have parishes in fast growing metropolitan communities in New Jersey—and they also have heartache for the education of their children. The schools of their communities are so crowded that for the past three years they have operated on the infamous "split-session" program. Now the parents find that college entrance training is impossible for the children under the system which can give each child only a half-day education. The cost of private schools is prohibitive to many, many American families and it means, that in such communities, next generations' America is being greatly penalized.

It would seem to me that lack of generous interest in our children's educational future could be the high crime of any society. Tuesday gives us in Kingston an opportunity to continue to provide for the community's but also the only chance of their future leadership in the professions, the arts and the general business of purposeful living.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and their dependents.

Education—This is the ideal time for young men and women to start taking action, if they intend to enroll in school or college in the fall under the War Orphans Education program. The program is for the sons and daughters of war veterans who died of injuries or diseases resulting from their military service in World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict. Generally, War Orphans students must be between 18 and 23 years of age. Two reasons for early action are given: First, students will have plenty of time to arrange for admittance this fall to the college of their choice. Many colleges, particularly larger ones, are crowded. A delay to the last minute can result in the disappointment of learning that there is no more room. Second, prompt action can result in expedient service with all the preliminary steps out of the way before the rush at enrollment time begins. It normally takes at least a month from the date of application is filed to the date of final approval for schooling. Records must be checked to determine whether the young person meets basic eligibility requirements. By waiting until later, prospective students run into the yearly peak load of veterans applying for schooling under the Korean GI Bill. And it is possible that the time between application and approval could then run into longer than one month. War Orphan students may receive up to 36 months of schooling, generally in institutions of higher learning. The government pays them up to $110 a month for each month in school.

Training—A veteran in training under the Korean GI Bill must start training within three years after his separation from active service. After his starting deadline has passed he must generally pursue his course until it is completed. However, he has the right to suspend training for periods of not more than 12 consecutive months. It is possible to suspend training for even a longer period if it can be proved to the satisfaction of the Veterans Administration that the suspension of over 12 months was due to reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

WW 2 veterans who returned to active duty and served between June 27, 1950 and January 31, 1955 may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation training for service-connected disabilities incurred during this period, even though they may have been trained previously under the WW 2 GI Bill or the original Vocational Rehabilitation Act. The training must be needed, however to overcome the handicap of disabilities received.

Armed Forces—Hearings are scheduled by the House of Representatives Armed Forces Subcommittee on HR 1108, a bill which proposed to give consideration for good civilian behavior when they apply for review of their discharges. Under present law, the armed services normally do not take into consideration a veteran's record after discharge in reviewing an appeal to change the character of a discharge. Research by the subcommittee to date shows that during the five year period ending June 30, 1955 discharge review boards of the four services processed 38,740 appeals and changed only 514 bad conduct discharges to better types. Moreover, only 4,442 discharges of all types were changed to discharges with higher character. Approximately 30 bills similar to HR 1108 have been introduced in Congress.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Body Found in Lake

Sodus, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—The body of a man was found floating in Lake Ontario near this Wayne county village last night by an unidentified fisherman. State police said a social security card in a wallet on the body carried the name of William George Fairbairn Jr. They said they found no address. They theorized the man was 60 to 70 years old. The Wayne county coroner's office ordered an autopsy.

Clerk to Die in Chair For Killing Patrolman

New York, May 4 (AP)—A 29-year-old Brooklyn clerk has been sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of a policeman.

Justice Vincent Impelleri yesterday sentenced Virgil Richardson to die at Sing Sing prison on or after June 10. The sentence, handed down in Queens county court, is subject to mandatory appeal.

Richardson, Negro, was convicted of shooting Patrolman William Long, 27, father of three, in a Queens parking lot last Sept. 2. The dying policeman said he went into the lot to check on a suspicious man lurking there.

Grapple for Body

New York, May 4 (AP)—Harbor squad police sought today to determine whether anyone died when an automobile plunged into the East river from Welfare Island. The car, a coupe, was pulled from the river opposite 66th street at 5:15 a. m. after a five-hour search. It was empty. Grappling operations were continued. Passengers on an island bus had reported seeing the car veer from the West Drive, strike a fire hydrant and plunge into the river shortly after midnight. They also heard screams.

Wheeler Leaves for U. S.

Cairo, May 4 (AP)—U. S. Maj. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of the recently completed Suez Canal clearance project, left for home today. Wheeler, who took a plane to New York via Zurich and Paris, cabled UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld Thursday that the last of his 31 salvage vessels from six lands had sailed for home. Wheeler came here last December after Hammarskjöld appointed him to head the UN salvage fleet to clear the invasion-littered canal.
